Recruitment of interns for summer 2019 at the ACHP is underway, and a call for applications has been shared with undergraduate, graduate, and certificate programs in historic preservation and related fields all over the country. The announcement has also been posted in several directories used by those seeking internships in historic preservation.

More information is available at <https://www.achp.gov/careers/summer-2019-internships-achp>, including a link to the application form. Applications are due by March 4th. Please share this with anyone you think may be interested or well positioned to help us find quality candidates.

Last summer's four interns made valuable contributions to ACHP's work and took full advantage of the orientation, training, and networking opportunities the agency and its partners were able to offer them. Each got hands-on experience with many aspects of the work of the ACHP.

Please pass the word and do not hesitate to contact Judy Rodenstein (jrodenstein@achp.gov), who coordinates the ACHP's Internship Program with the generous financial support from the ACHP Foundation, with any questions you might have.

John
